Haddad's Action at Forum Leads to Shouting Match

At the recent "Dial-A-Gripe" forum, called by the Seaside Human Relations Commission, Mayor Lou Haddad caused a large uproar by spending about 30 minutes reading and replying to charges made against him by councilman Oliver Murray at the March 19 city council meeting.

The turmoil began after 11 p.m., when about half of the audience had already departed.

The twenty questions, which were on the formal agenda of the meeting, had been answered when Haddad annouced that he had a few questions of his own to answer.

About halfway through his presentation, attorney Steve Slatkow, who is representing the "Seaside 19" in their suit against Seaside, protested that the mayor was improperly using the forum.

Sherman Smith, chairman of the forum, tried to silence Slatkow and allow Haddad to continue. While he rapped his gavel, Haddad began shouting at Slatkow, telling him to sit down because he "didn't represent anyone in this community."

In reply, Slatkow told the mayor that he represented more people in Seaside than he ever would.

Councilman Stephen Ross, after Haddad finished, declared, "It is not right to do this type of thing." He then warned that because tensions on both sides of the Seaside political picture are so tight that if the bitter arguments are not soon stopped, people on either side may be provoked to such a point that violence could result.

Smith also showed that he was upset by the mayor's action. He said, "The mayor has taken advantage of the human relations commission."

The chairman, then, promised that nothing like that would happen at the next forum, which as yet is unscheduled.

Before the final disruption of the meeting, the forum answered the 20 questions submitted to it. All 20 questions, which were on the topic of city finances, were submitted in advance, printed and distributed to the audience.

Early in the meeting, Russell Hoss, director of the Seaside Urban Renewal Agency, said he would rather go home than put up with harassment by Pat Patterson, long time critic of the urban renewal agency.

In reply, Patterson told Hoss, "If you want to go home, go home, because you don't live in Seaside." (Hoss lives in Salinas.)

Free Rabies Clinic

By state law, vaccination is required every two years. These clinics are conducted annually by the Monterey County Health Department in cooperation with the Monterey Peninsula Veterinary Medical Association.

Seaside City Councilman

Seaside's future is at stake. No less than your right to vote as an American citizen is at stake. The issues before you and your city are clear.

Citizens of Seaside must be allowed to speak. The Recall elections may be your last chance to speak. Indifference will only guarantee a future of violent frustration for Seaside.

Twelve hundred persons are political debtors to corrupt loyalties. They are capable of instant anarchy. The past year has been a horror story of intrigue, harrassment and civic subversion. It takes 2500 to elect, but only 1200 to destroy.

Please register to vote by May 6.

PLEASE VOTE.

Banish finally the conspiracy of 1970-71 from Seaside.

May 6 will be your last chance to vote June 28.

PTA Honors Mrs. Amos

In recognition of her services to the children and youth of her community, Mrs. Elsworth Amos, 590 Trinity Avenue, Seaside, was given a continuing service award at the 20th District PTA annual dinner.

Over 120 members and guests met at Paine's in Hollister on April 20 to honor five recipients of the PTA award, one from each council in 20th District.

This was the first time San Benito Council had hosted a 20th District meeting, having seceded from 6th District (Santa Clara County) to join 20th District this year.

Mrs. Amos, whose husband has been a patrolman on the Monterey Police Force for 20 years and two of whose eight children are policemen, was recognized for the many ways she has helped those in need. She was honored especially for taking care of children so that mothers on welfare could go to work.

In 1968, she received a Mother of the Year award from Monterey Chapter 630 of the Moose, and has also previously received a State PTA honorary life membership award.

Making the presentation was Mrs. John Mason, Council president.

Started in 1927, the honorary service award, previously called honorary life membership, designates a gift to the California PTA scholarship and loan fund in the name of the recipient. Those who have previously receive an honorary service award are given a continuing service award. Since the beginning of the program, over $4 million has been given or loaned to help California college students.

The honorary service award for the Pajaro Valley area went to Mrs. Ray Burgess, Council president. Her activities include 12 years as a 4-H leader, many years as assistant den mother, camp counselor, Sunday School teacher and other community services including drug abuse prevention.

She was presented her award by Mrs. Bud Bollinger, 20th District director of organization.

Lars Barstead, superintendent of the Hollister Elementary School District, was presented an honorary service award by Don Klein, PTA president of R. O. Hardin School, who described Barstead as "Mister Elementary Education," an administrator who has never lost either a bond election or a tax override.

The honorary service award in Santa Cruz-Redwood Council was given to Mrs. John Manchester, 20th District director of communications. Five times a unit president and active in church work, Mrs. Manchester, daughter of Episcopal missionaries to China, where she was born and raised, is the mother of twelve children.

Mrs. Fred Miller, Council service award chairman, who presented the award, characterized Mrs. Manchester as "a busy housewife who finds it difficult to say no and who still finds time to bake bread for her family."

Already the recipient of a State honorary life membership and a National honorary life membership award, PTA's highest honor, Mrs. E. E. Hyde of Salinas was given a continuing service award. Four times a unit president, former president of 6th District, currently State director of communications and conference chairman for the Stae PTA Convention next month, Mrs. Hyde is also a member of the lay advisory committee of vocational education for Salinas, Hartnell and Gonzales School Districts. In 1949 she was the first women to receive the National Campfire Leadership Medallion for outstanding group leadership in the west.

Mrs. John Long, honorary service award chairman for Salinas Valley Council, described Mrs. Hyde as "inspiration, advisor, walking encyclopedia, script writer, play director and counselor."

Membership awards for those units with a 10 percent increase were given by Mrs. John Hassler, 20th District membership chairman. The following 11 units in Monterey Peninsual Council received awards: Colton Junior High, Crumpton, Forest Grove,

NPS Command Changes

Rear Admiral Alexander Scott Goodfellow succeeded Rear Admiral Robert W. McNitt as superintendent of the Naval Postgraduate School at a formal change-of-command ceremony Friday, April 23.

McNitt, who held the post since October 1967, reports to the Pentagon as Deputy Assistand Chief of Naval Operations (Manpower).

Before arriving in Monterey, Goodfellow was commander of the Operational Test and Evaluation Force at Norfolk, Virginia for nearly two years. As NPS Superintendent, he will have additional duty as director of the Navy Management Systems Center.

Goodfellow, 54, is a native of Seattle, where he spent two years at the University of Washington before entering the Naval Academy in 1936. As a midshipman, he was class president and a member of the golf team.

Following his graduation and commissioning in 1940, he was assigned to the battleship USS Mississippi, serving on her in the Pacific Theatre during most of World War II. He then attended the old postgraduate school at Annapolis, for one year before earning the Master of Science degre in electrical engineering from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The admiral then served as gunnery officer in the cruiser USS Helena off the China Coast; as armament officer on the staff of the Commander, Operational Development Force, U. S. Atlantic Fleet and as Officer in Charge of the Pasadena Annex of the Naval Ordnance Test Station at China Lake, California.

After commanding the radar picket destroyer USS Frank Knox and serving on the staff of the Commander, Cruiser Destroyer Force, Pacific Fleet, Admiral Goodfellow spent a year of study at the National War College in Washington, D. C.

Later sea duty included command of the attack transport USS Paul Revere, the guided missile light cruiser USS Galveston and cruiser-destroyer flotillas 9 and 7.

From August 1966 to January 1967, Admiral Goodfellow was Commander, Cruiser-Destroyer Group Seventh Fleet in combat operations off the coast of Vietnam. As such, he had operational control of all forces assigned to naval gunfire support duties and was responsible for planning, scheduling, training and development for cruisers and destroyers. It was under his direction that new concepts in the use of naval gunfire support were initiated. As a result, North Vietnamese infiltration by boat through the Gulf of Tonkin to the South was virtually halted.

Following his Vietnam duty, Goodfellow became deputy chief of naval material (development) and chief of naval development, with additional duty as assistant oceanographer of the Navy for ocean engineering and development.

Among the many medals Admiral Goodfellow holds are the Legion of Merit with Gold Star, Bronze Star with Combat "V", European-African-Middle Eastern Campaign Medal, Asiatic-Pacific Campaign Medal with four stars, the China Service Medal, Korean Service Medal, Vietnam Service Medal with two campaign stars.

He is married to the former Barbara Sorrick of Berkeley. They have two children, Alexander Scott Jr. and Jane.

Alternative School Plan Approved

The Monterey Peninsula Unified School District Board of Education recently approved the alternative school plan for summer 1971 and for the 1971-72 school year, modified from the initial proposal of February 1.

Two or three classrooms at Del Rey Woods School were selected as site for the pilot program. A sum of $2,200 was approved to remove a wall between two classrooms and replace with folding door and to install a double door to an adjoining room. Principal of Del Rey Woods, Ronald Edwards, said that projected enrollment and some adjustments would provide space for the program.

Superintendent of Schools Allan J. Petersdorf said he is in favor of the plan, but could not recommend the entire $67,012 budget proposed by teachers Robert Beck and George Moscona and the alternative school committee. Beck said 82 children are signed up for the potential program, kindergarten through grade 8. Those from the immediate area will not need transportation. Parents must bring and pick up students.

Beck said that as most of the children come from only a few unnamed schools, these other schools will need fewer teachers and the estimated cost of additional staff will not materialize. The board approved no capital outlay cost except the $2,200, and no operating expenses except that of teachers under the same enrollment formula used in the rest of the district. By increasing total school enrollment, it may be necessary by formula to hire a vice-principal for the school.

The alternative school-within-a-school will be called "The Learning Community," by committee request. Basic concepts are to develop an instructional program that is child-centered, changed role of teacher to that of learning facilitator and involve the community.

Seaside Ripples

A.E. Barragan

We want to congratulate "Gerry" Davis and Linda Lee Bassett on their election to the Board of the Monterey Peninsula School District from the Seaside Trustee area and Thomas Knauf from the Marina Trustee district.

Mrs. Bassett, a member of the Seaside Planning Commission, ran an extremely strong race and finished only 39 votes behind Davis, who has been on the board for eight years. The election of Mrs. Bassett and Davis shows that the voters of this district want to retain the type of leadership that the board has shown in the last few years. The voters turned back the threat of a take-over by the forces of reaction, which was exemplified in the well-financed campaign of Dr. Henry Rock. A committee, which calls itself The Monterey Peninsula Committee for Quality Education, spent thousands of dollars supporting the candidacy of Dr. Henry Rock and Welcome Randall.

This so-called committee for "quality education" reminds me of the committee we have here in Seaside - "The Committee for Good Government" headed by Colonel Dolan - who would also like to turn back the clock on our city government. These groups, representing the most reactionary elements in the community, have only one interest and that is to capture the reins of government at all levels. In the school board election, they sent full-page mailers to all of the voters in the district full of lies and distortions. They had the money to buy full-page ads in the Herald and will go to any lengths to confuse the voters into their nefarious trap.

"Good government" and "quality education"

Grooving Around the Peninsula

with BETTY MANN

Hi There, Fellow Peninsulans:

Last week a testimonial dinner was given in honor of attorney Jane Van Hook. Approximately 250 persons turned out to honor this charming and personable young, black lawyer, who is director of the Legal Aid Society of Monterey County. She was also the chief spokesman and negotiator for the Affirmative Action Committee in their recent action.

Master of ceremonies for the dinner was Dr. Henry (Hank) Hutchins. Reverend Dennis Franklin oped the testimonial with the invocation. He was followed by a number of guest speakers. Among these were: Honorable Joseph Kennedy, Superior Court Judge in San Francisco; Mrs. Bert Hutchins, instructor at Monterey Peninsula College; Mrs. Walding Littleton, a teacher in Salinas Unified School District and a former classmate of Jane's; Mrs. Patricia Ramsey, another classmate who is now an attorney (she told of the three problems which Jane had to overcome as a student--she is a female, she's black and she wanted to become a lawyer.); Lt. Col. Charles Drummond, US Army Retired; Mrs. Charlie Knight, Director of ESEA for Monterey County; Steve Slakow, senior attorney for Legal Aid; James Taylor, head of the Department for Ethnic Studies at MPC and R.T. Joyce, a local businessman.

Dr. Henry Hutchins, after these speakers lauded Mrs. Van Hook, read a proclamation from Mayor Al Madden of Monterey.

Following this, yours truly presented gifts to Jane from the ESEA Advisory Board and the Monterey Peninsula Cotillion League. Mrs. Helen Turner, president of the Reagents Club, presented the guest of honor with a gift; Mrs. Eva Ross presented a gift from the Le Grande Coeurs Club. Mrs. Frailley, representing the Cavaliers, acknowledged Jane's accomplishments; so did Mrs. Leatrice Murray, representing the ladies of the Elks; Alpha Dabney of the Elks Golf Club, William Hill of the Strivers Club and Dave Wintergraten.

Members of the Affirmative Action Negotiating Committee shared the head table with the guest of honor. Seated around Mrs. Van Hook were: Sy Rockins, Mrs. Sarah Jackson, Henry Burney, Mrs. Joyce McKinney, R.T. Royce and Miguel Rodriguez.

After the delicious dinner that was prepared by the artists on the Outrigger staff, music for dancing was provided through the courtesy of the American Federation of Musicians, Local 616 of Monterey.

Jane gave a stirring speech at the dinner, which I think all of you would have been glad to hear. The following are some exerpts from that speech.

"As a young black woman, I discovered that the doors to liberty, justice and equality were closed to black people. I decided I wanted to do something to open those doors. So, I became a lawyer, an advocate for the cause of freedom.

"When I think of the law and lawyers, I think of a knight standing mighty in battle with the law as his sword and shield. I want to use that sword and shield to make this world a better place for all mankind.

"Tonight I say to white America, black and brown militants, black and brown revolutionists are not born. Militants and violent revolutionists are created when in the course of human events it becomes impossible to continue to endure social injustices.

"My plea to white America is, do not continue to create black militants and violent revolutionist. Let me work within the system, peacefully, for social change. Let the many black, brown and white lawyers who are attempting to bring about social change, through law, have a voice. Do not hinder us with unfair methods.

"The doors of justice, equality and liberty must be open. Minority people are no longer willing to keep knocking on the door. Are the doors of equality to be opened through peaceful negotiation or through violence. Let us all work toward a peaceful goal. This is my prayer. Young people of all races must be heard. The fundamental rights of free speech, assembly and petition must be preserved at all cost. Do not suppress these rights.

"I call for unity between the black and brown (Mexican American) communities. Let us not let the enemy continue to divide us and keep us from our goals. To our white friends, help us fight for these goals--treat us as men and women.

"Our goals for Monterey County are: 1. 30 percent minorities employed within the construction industry; 2. 30 percent minorities employed within the city of Seaside and County of Monterey; 3. 30 black owned and operated businesses within five years; 4. five minority owned and operated industries grossing over $2 million and employing more than 15 employees.

"No longer are we going to tolerate 26 percent unemployment of minorities in Monterey County.

"This is affirmative action. We ask our white friends to assist us toward our goals--give us your expertise and finance, we will do the job. In closing, I can never express the great feeling of gratitude in my heart. I want to thank you from the very bottom of my heart.

"In the words of Martin Luther King, I have a dream, that one day in Monterey County, all children regardless of race will have a good education; that there will be equal employment for all people; that all people in our county will have adequate housing; that one day in this great nation all people will have liberty, equality and justice."

Until next week,
Betty

are the labels that they give their front organizations. They have but one aim and that is government by a select, elite few, rather than a government that represent the interests of the people of the city. They will always represent the special interests, regardless of the labels that they give themselves.

The voters weren't fooled in the school election and they won't be fooled in the upcoming recall election.

Speaking about the recall election, you have only until May 6to register to vote, if you aren't already registered. The registration, by law, must close 54 days before an election and the recall election is on June 29.

The mechanics of a recall election are quite interesting. Before there can be an election at all, the accused councilman has to first be recalled. The ballot will probably read something like this: Shall Councilman -------be recalled. Vote YESS or NO.

If the No votes are in a majority, then there will be no election and it will end right there. Only if there are a majority of Yes votes will there even be an election. Therefore, all of those candidates that have filed intention to run an against the councilmen won't even be in the race if there is no recall. Now, you may understand the grand strategy of the Haddad-Dolan forces. They have induced 15 people to run for four council seats that may or may not be open for election. You may wonder why they don't just concentrate on just one man for each job. Well, they will behind the scenes and the so-called "Committee for Good Government" might make some endorsements at the last minute, but the trick now is to get as many candidates in the race as possible, so that they will all be out campaigning to "recall" the present councilmen.

Now don't get me wrong. I am in favor of lots of candidates in any campaign. I think that more people should be involved enough in politics to stand for election. I am sure that most of the candidates in this election (that might not be held) are sincere in their efforts, but I can recognize the fine hand of Haddad in the background. I may be naive, but I can't possibly see how a few power - hungry men who would institute one-man rule again in Seaside are going to succeed in recalling three men and a woman whose only "crime" in office is that they are trying to return city government to the hands of all of the people rather than the select few.

Remember, to vote against the recall before May 6.

Back to more delightful subject matter, after all of the hard election talk. Jeannie, my wife and I attended the opening night of "MY FAIR LADY" at the Little Theatre at the Naval Postgraduate School recently. It was delightful. I have seen the show three or four times before and I enjoyed this performance as much or more than any of the previous. The acting by the three lead characters was superb.

LaVonne Rae Andrews played Eliza, the Cockney flower girl, who is made into a lady. She has good voice and performed superbly. Newell Tarrant, playing Professor Higgins, was excellent. Colonel Pickering, played by Donald M. "Red" Layton, was a delight. Of course, no presentation of "My Fair Lady" is ever complete unless they are able to cast a good player in the role of Mr. Doolitle, the father of Eliza and the lovable drunk. Jim Fergusen played the part to perfection and put so much zest and gusto into it that it was again a "show stealer." Space doesn't allow going into the good performance of the rest of the cast, but suffice it to say that the entire show is worth seeing again. The musical will be shown again this weekend, April 30 and May 1 at 8:30. Reservations may be made by calling 373 - 5626.

Your Social Security

Q. My mother is unable to manage her Social Security payments. What should I do?

A. Notify your Social Security office of your mother's condition. If, based on a medical report from her doctor or legal findings, she is unable to take care of the benefits, someone will be appointed to receive and manage them for her. This person should be a close relative with whom your mother is living or someone who is genuinely interested in your mother's welfare. The person must agree to use the money for your mother's needs and to make an accounting of the money received and spent. Ask your Social Security office for additional information.

Q. If I decide to work for another year or two beyond my 65th birthday must I wait until I stop work to be eligible for Medicare coverage?

A. No. You become eligible for Medicare as soon as you become 65, whether you're retired or still working. But to make sure your full Medicare protection begins the month you reach 65, you should check with your Social Security office 2 or 3 months before your 65th birthday.

(Mail your questions to Social Security, c/o Seaside Post News-Sentinel, Seaside, or phone Social Security office 373-3351)

Letter To The Editor

Mr. Sabado, President of the Fil-Am. Club and Members:

As a member of the Filipino Community, I wish to express my feelings concerning the clubhouse project, and donate some beneficial ideas. The President, Mr. Sabado, has demonstrated proper judgement in promoting the purchasing of the clubhouse lot. You have done a great job, and credit is due. My wife and I congratulate you for the beneficial success you have created in initiating the first step to promote the building of our Filipino Clubhouse.

An inevitable challenge is the length of time in which payments for the lot shall be rendered. As I understand, we are paying over $100 a month interest for the loan. If payments cannot be made in a short period of time, deep concern should be realized about the outcome. There are many promises to give donations, but not in cash. Much of the donations goes to the interest of the loan and if this interest builds because of a long term payment, there cannot be any visualization of our dreamhouse within the decade.

In your Newsletters, suggestions and ideas to raise money are asked. Certainly we need new ideas, new vitality, and new approaches in raising money. Every avenue of raising money for the club should be entertained and considered. Something should be considered immediately before we go into the reserves.

My idea of having $100 representing lifetime-membership is to encourage and inspire our elderly for the advantages of savings they may encounter if God permits. Let us set the age of 50 years and up to be eligible for life membership and the donation must be cash. This way the club will gain more, rather than lose.

If we could obtain 100 life memberships, the club will have a total collection of $10,000. This would enable us to pay the lot in full. Then the donations you are collecting now can be used to build the dream house for the club.

I for one, am for getting benefits. If there are any coming to me, I promise to give or donate to the club.

Together we can move our club on a new road to unity and progress. Let us put our heads together and pull or create ideas and find a better way and program to raise money.

Lack of adequate communication between top leaders and the Filipinos in the community is the real cause for our people's reluctance and unwillingness to get active in our club.

Let us set the gap between the young and the old, between the leaders and the Filipinos in our community, aside.

All I would like to see before I die is the building of our clubhouse where every segment of our population regardless if they are members or not, can get together and be united as one strong race. This would give us distinction between others in our community, white or black, yellow or green.

If we are united politically, we will be stronger in our community and we will be praised and admired in all community activities.

Sincerely yours,
Tony Sison

Editor: Ageless is one of the very few words that we rarely hear. It is a word that brings nectar to my ears and if others have a taste for mythology as I do, then there is communication when they read your column.

Every time I have read your paper, I have found much richness and warmth. This is the kind of thing that makes one wonder about knowledge and understanding. You express it so clearly that even the poorest reader can get understanding from it.

It makes one want to look around and really see what is taking place in everyday life and gain some insight about himself and his community. It is this that makes your column really worth reading.

To me, this column is the highlight of the week. May many more ageless inspiring words find their way into your column,

Who Cares

By Mel Vercoe

The President has brought us together. This bit of wisdom appeared on a placard carried by a peace marcher in San Francisco last Saturday. Other signs ranged from plain "End the war now" to four letter obscenities carried by individuals probably less interested in ending the war than in displaying ignorance and lack of common decency.

The cold wind didn't help as marchers tried to keep signs up high enough to read. Mothers, fathers, baby buggies, lost dogs, empty soda pop cans and just thousands and thousands of our younger generation choked the west side of Geary Boulevard in San Francisco for miles and the Polo grounds at the park just got so full they had to hold back the procession for a time.

Yes, the President had indeed brought us together-people from San Diego, Sacramento, Oregon-people from all walks of life, poor and rich, hippies and businessmen, Protestants, Jews and Catholics, male, female and indifferent, but all brought together by our President to do anything humanly possible within the law to end an illegal war.

Mr. Nixon would probably not admit helping to set up the parade, but he was getting all the credit. Nobody remembered that Truman set up the "help the French" program, that Eisenhower helped prevent the Geneva Accord-ordered Vietnam election that would have prevented the war, and nobody remembered that it was Kennedy's incredibly poor judgment that gave Lyndon Johnson a chance to trick Congress into handing him authority to wage unlimited agressive war, and that Congress could have ended the way at any time they wished by simply cutting off funds.

So Nixon, simply because he apparently has no intention of ending the war, bore the brunt of the criticism in Saturday's parade. (Some call it a march.

It was fitting that the principal speakers were not allowed to speak. The same confused sense of priorities that has plagued dissent against the war from the very beginning-the bringing in of issues that make it uncomfortable for many citizens to join the ranks of the dissenters-this confusion of priorities allowed some Brown Beret members to completely disrupt the while program, much to the disgust of the nearly three hundred thousand people present-people who had come hundreds of miles, some of them, to try to do something about saving human lives and saving their country from destruction. It will be perhaps ten years before the Mexican-American causes will be able to get full sympathy again from anyone who was in San Francisco on April 24.

So, there we have it. We had relatively few plain businessmen and ordinary people types, but we had literally hordes of young long-haired people who pose virtually no threat to the reelection of Richard Nixon in 1972. It has always been and still is my contention that the obscenities and the type of thing pulled by the Chicanos help to prolong the war by making responsible dissent unpopular, and I personally class those disrupters in the same class with the Nixons, the Lairds, the Lodges and the F. Edward Heberts.

Learn to Meditate

Paul Reps, considered the foremost authority on Zen but at the same time an advocate of Western-oriented meditation, will lecture at Monterey Peninsula College tomorrow (Friday) as the final speaker in MPC's "Insight" forum series.

Known only as "Reps," he will begin his talk on "Ten Ways to Meditate" at 8 p.m. in Lecture-Forum 103.

Tickets will be available at the door or may be purchased in advance at the college community services office.

Author of several "unusual" books, Reps has been called "possibly the most original and delightful American writer today" by the National Catholic Report. His publications include "Zen Telegrams," cited by the late Aldous Huxley for "taking one further toward the realization of the ancient selfknowledge than all the roaring or pathetic eloquence of generations of philosophers, theologians and moralists"; "Zen Flesh Zen Bones," short stories of Chinese and Japanese sages; "Square Sun Square Moon"; "Unwrinkling Plays"; "GOLD /and Fish Signatures" and "Ten Ways to Meditate."

Student Dance Concert Is Tomorrow

"Triad in Dance," a student concert directed by Monterey Peninsula College instructors Diane Smith and Mrs. John (Sharon) Coniglio, will be staged tomorrow (Friday) at 8:30 p.m. in the MPC Theater.

The program will feature modern, folk and social dance numbers performed and - in most cases - choreographed by the college's students in intermediate classes and evening workshops.

Some 30 dancers will appear in ten modern dance exhibitions, including one by Carol Surman's experimental dance workshop; a Japanese "haiku" suite and a number by Mrs. Coniglio and Diane Chatwin, wife of MPC faculty member Marshall Chatwin and director of MPC's dance workships.

Authentic folk dances from Israel, Denmark, Greece, Hungary and the Philippines which have been sepecially adapted and arranged by Miss Smith's students will comprise a portion of the program, as will group performances of a formation waltz, rock number and Charleston. Two students will do a tango number; an Arthur Murray teacher will demonstrate the West Coast Swing and rock and Bernie Lainson, manager of the Monterey Arthur Murray Studio, will team with Miss Smith for a demonstration of tango and waltz technique.

Tickets will be sold at the theater door on the concert night.

Church Services

"Order my steps in thy word: and let not any iniquity have dominion over me."

These work

These words from Psalms are from the Bible Lesson-Sermon on "Everlasting Punishment" to be heard at Christian Science services Sunday.

"The likeness of God we lose sight of through sin, which beclouds the spiritual sense of Truth; and we realize this likeness only when we subdue sin and prove man's heritage, the liberty of the sons of God," a citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states.

First Church of Christ, Scientist invites the public to attend. The service is held in Monterey and begins at 10:30 a.m.

Teachers' Art Is on Display

Since Public School Week is celebrated during April, the Seaside Art Commission has been exhibiting the works of two teachers in the display cases and memorial show of Harold Landaker's oils at the Seaside City Hall Gallery.

Fritz Abplanalp was born in Brienz, Switzerland. He received his art education at the National Carving School and the Thomann Religious Art Studio in Brienz.

In 1929 he came to America to carve the interior of the Chapel of the Convent of the Transfiguration in Greendale, Ohio.

From 1942 until 1968 Abplanalp taught art in Hawaii, teaching at the Kamehameha Schools, the Academy of Arts and the Univerity Extension in Honolulu.

Abplanalp began exhibiting in 1936 and has won many awards with his wood sculptures. He did the sculptures for the State of Hawaii, which were exhibited at the New York World's Fair in 1962 and has two lifesize crucifixions in churches in Hawaii. In 1963 he had a one-man show at the Contemporary Art Center in Honolulu.

Abplanalp used many unusual Hawaiian woods to carve the sculptures in the present exhibit.

Larry Hale was born in South Dakota and spent his school years in Montana. After graduating from Montana State University in 1958, Hale became a teacher and coach in the Salinas High School system. While teaching he managed to maintain his interest and part-time work in metal sculpture and now has his own studio in Salinas.

His works are also exhibited in the Depot Gallery in Napa, California.

Hale calls his metal sculpture "Sculpture of the Sea", but he does not limit himself only to sea subjects. Besides several fish and ships, he is displaying other metal novelties as well as uniquely designed "weed" vases and placques.

Harold Landaker was a Monterey Peninsula resident for twenty years until his death in 1966 and several of the oils in this exhibit depict familar scenes.

Mr. Landaker studied art at the Art Institute and the Academy of Fine Arts in Chicago and the Washington University in St. Louis.

He was a member of the Carmel Art Association, for many years, serving on the board of directors several times. Last month the Pacific Grove Art Association had a memorial show of his oils.

Mrs. Landaker's pictures vary from bright sunny colors to muted pastels and this exhibit has examples of both. There is variety in his subject matter too, with local and European scenes and a number of paintings of the circus end amusement parks.

The Seaside City Hall is now open from 8 until 5, Monday through Friday.

More Medical Scholarships Are Possible

State Senator Donald L. Grunsky has introduced legislation creating a medical fellowship program using state money to assist qualified students at private medical schools.

Grunsky's bill establishes a competitive fellowship program in medicine under the administration of the State Scholarship and Loan Commission. Under the program, qualified students may recieve aid in the form of scholarships to be used at accredited California medical schools.

The bill also authorizes the state to enter into contracts with private colleges and universities maintaining medical schools for the purpose of encouraging them to increase enrollments.

Grunsky said, "It is essential that we provide greater opportunities for medical training in this state if we are to meet the increasing need for adequate medical treatment for the citizens of this state.

"I believe my bill will allow many more students in the state to take advantage of the facilities and talents which are currently available at many of the private schools in California."

Grunsky also said, "We know that there is a critical shortage of competent physicians and surgeons in California and attempts to provide bond monies for the construction of these badly needed facilities at state institutions have failed to gain sifficient public support."

the program.

Grunsky also pointed ou that his bill is limited to California residents who have been accepted for admission or who already are medical students in one of the accredited schools of medicine.

Grunsky added that the Commission will have the authority to contract on behalf of the state with private colleges and universities maintaining and operating a recognized school of medicine and accredited.

"The contracts for an increase in enrollment will be equal to $12,000 per year, per student enrolled in the school of medicine," Grunsky said, adding:

"Such contracts shall provide that the amount be reduced, on an annual basis, to the actual cost incurred by the school."

THAT'S RIGHT! Once you buy AstroShield, you'll never wax your car again, ever!

Yet AstroShield is easier to use than any wax or polish ever developed—just spread on, let haze form, and wipe off. Stains, dirt, grime, oxidation vanish like magic! There's no precleaning, no hard rubbing, no buffing—but still that AstroShield shine lasts... and lasts... and lasts some more!

Lecture Today

Dr. Gene England, director of the Monterey Institute for Speech and Hearing clinic, will be the second speaker for "Operation Update," the current series of admission-free lectures for women, being presented by the Monterey Peninsula Branch, American Association of University Women and Monterey Peninsula College.

The Carmel resident will discuss "Behavior Modification: The Human Effort," starting at 10 a.m. today, in the All Saints' Espiscopal Church parish house, Carmel.

A 1955 graduate of the University of Minnesota, Dr. England earned his master's degree at Vanderbilt University in 1956 and his doctorate at Northwestern University in 1960. He was an associate professor and director for speech and hearing at the University of Arizona from 1960 to 1964; a visiting professor at Stanford University in 1964 and a founder of the Monterey Institute for Speech and Hearing in 1965. He was the Monterey Jaycees' "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" in 1961.

He describes his area of professional interest as "the innovative application of principles of learning to systematically achieving designated objectives in education and metal health."

Women with small children planning to attend "Operation Update" are advised that a free baby-sitting service will be provided.

Dr. England's talk will be followed by a coffee break and question-answer session ending at noon.

Program Finds Jobs

New facts on savings achieved and jobs found for welfare recipients through California's work incentive program were disclosed recently Gilbert L. Sheffield, Director of the Department of Human Resources Development.

Since the program began in September, 1968, results through March of this year show that 6,287 persons have successfully completed the program and been placed in permanent employment, said Sheffield.

Estimated savings in welfare payments amount to approximately $40 million, he added.

The work incentive program is a training and placement program operated jointly by HRD and the Department of Social Welfare in conjunction with welfare offices in 27 counties. The goal is to move welfare recipients with dependent children into productive employment as rapidly as possible.

"We have a strict standard for counting successes in the WIN program," said Sheffield. "We count only those persons placed in a job and still at work three months later, which gives us the current figure of 6,287. In fact, the actual number of enrollees who have gone from WIN to a job, either on their own or through our efforts, is much higher -- well over 15,000.

"The welfare savings, too, are based on conservative estimates," Sheffield added. "We count only the estimated savings in the first year although many of the people we help had been on welfare for years and may have remained there many years more -- even to the second generation."

We've streamlined your statement. We've cut out the clutter and made other helpful innovations.

So now you can balance your checkbook quickly and easily. We call it the Timesaver Statement.

1. We're listing the checks on your statement in the order in which you wrote them.

2. You can tell at a glance which checks haven't come in yet. We mark the gaps in your check numbers with an asterisk.

3. We're also listing the checks vertically. Which is the natural way to read figures.

4. And to simplify things still more, we show the only balances you really need — this month's and last month's.

Bank of America is the only bank that makes this statement. No other bank has it. If you like it, ask for it when you buy your checks.

The whole thing's so simple, sometimes we wonder why we didn't do it sooner.

If you're not a customer of ours, wouldn't this be a good time to join the 20th century?

Plant a lawn now and it will be well established, lush and green by the winter months. If you have ever had trouble with planting lawns, or your lawn is unsightly, it may be due to poor preparation of the soil before planting the lawn. A lot goes into preparing a lawn, but the rewards of a beautiful lawn are well worth it.

Here in Seaside most of the soil is sandy, and sandy soil needs a boost with organic material. Add organic material to a depth of one foot. The addition should be 50 percent organic material, but any more than that will rot the soil rather than help it. One advantage of the addition of organic material is the lawn can be left untended for up to 2 weeks with no major damage.

Some of the organic materials most often used are sawdust, steermanure and rice hulls.

If sawdust is used, fertilization with nitrogen is very necessary. Sawdust will rob the soil of most of its nitrogen, so an addition of ten pounds of amonium nitrate, amonium sulfate or urea to each yard of soil and sawdust combination is recommended. At the same time, incorporate five pounds of pot ash and five pounds of phosphorus to each yard of soil.

If steer manure is used as a soil amendment, five pounds each of nitrogen, phosphorus and pot ash should be added per yard of soil. This addition of 5-5-5 should also be added if rice hulls are used as an organic material. The addition of organic material will bring the grade on your lawn up, so be sure to compensate for it.

Next in preparation of a lawn should be a sprinkler system. For an average lawn the sprinkler system materials should cost about $100. If you install the sprinkler system yourself take all measurements and a supply house will set you up with all materials needed. A sprinkler system insures proper watering of the lawn which is one of the basic essential needs of it.

In choosing seed, the type that does best in Seaside's sandy soil is a mixture of fine fescue, fine rye and blue grass. Make sure the seed mixture is fine. If the lawn is sodded, leave the soil one-half inch below the desired grade height. Most nurseries can get sod and it is cheaper in the long run, although initially more expensive. When laying sod or seed roll the soil first only if the soil is sand. Bury seed one-eighth to one-fourth of an inch deep and keep moist eight hours a day while it is germinating. This is the most important point in starting a lawn --keep it moist, but not wet.

Things Are Looking Up

"Just as there is a source for contaminating the atmosphere, and breathing it in causes sickness and death, so also there is a source for the spirit of rebellion and breathing in this spirit results in acts of disorder and confusion leading to a state of anarchy and death."

That startling statement was made by Lyle E. Reusch, district representative for Jehovah's Witnesses in Central California, as he spoke to 2408 delegates at their semi-annual convention at the Watsonville Fairgrounds this past weekend.

He spoke on the subject "WHAT IS BEHIND THE SPIRIT OF REBELLION?" and continued: "Regardless of real or supposed injustices, rebellion does not solve man's problems, even if, under certain circumstances, temporary relief may seemingly be gained."

Then, looking forward to better times, Reusch told his listeners, "The administration of this earth by Jesus Christ during his 1000 year kingdom rule will undo and correct all the evil brought upon makind by Satan's rule.".

He pointed out that the spirit of rebellion has been overcome by a large group of individuals. "Within the New World Society of Jehovah's witnesses, the moral values outlined in the Bible are taught, believed and lived. They are practical and they work and Jehovah's witnesses now enjoy a world-wide reputation for family and moral values."

Brothers Have 'Bag'

The Chambers Brothers are five beautiful guys; four of whom were born in Mississippi and one in Yorkshire, England. There are George, Willie, Lester, Joseph and Brian.

The Brothers have been together as a group for six years in the rock scene, and before that sang as a gospel group.

The Brothers were the first to bring gospel to night clubs and coffee houses.

What bag are the Brothers in? The Chambers Brothers belong to the rock scene, the blues scene, the rhythm and blues scene.

Construction Industry Is Changing

The small building contractor stands "on the threshold of an era that may see dramatic changes inbuilding technology which could revolutionize his industry."

These changes include the transition from on-site to factory building of less expensive homes, according to the latest issue of Bank of America's periodical, The Small Business Reporter.

Such changes will make it increasingly difficult for the small builder to compete in the lower-income housing market, the report states. The small builder also faces problems arising from the increasing sophistication and efficiency of larger competition.

"However, there will still be lucrative opportunities for the small building contractor in this creative and rewarding field," the bank says.

The industry's unique makeup also continues -- the construction industry consists primarily of small firms, the majority of them sole proprietorships with fewer than eight employes.

Attesting to the importance of the industry, new construction in the United States during 1970 exceeded $90 billion and provided jobs for several million people.

The report describes various aspects of the business, including getting started, licenses, taxes and permits, bonding, financing, and management.

A single copy of the report may be obtained free at any Bank of America branch, according to Wiesler.

Motorcyclists Return to Laguna Seca

The finest Grand Prix Motorcycles and riders in the west are preparing to compete at Laguna Seca Raceway on May 2.

The asthetics of roadracing motorcycles have come a long way since the last time they were run at Laguna, many years ago. Now the bikes with their aerodynamic fairings, custom paint jobs and the colored leathers worn by the drivers, give this exciting sport the look of Indy on two wheels.

The motorcycles will practice and qualify on Sunday morning.

The procedure for the race includes a five minute warmup. After a one minute warning, the bikes will be lined up in a staggered 5-4-5 grid with their engines running. Then the flag will drop and the top 32 qualifiers will be off over the 1.9 mile 9-turn Laguna Seca circuit.

This event will be staged between the first and second heats of the L&M Grand Prix at approximately 2:05 p.m.

Invitations have been accepted by many top drivers including Dave Scott, the 34 year old veteran who currently is California's AFM champion. He will be aboard a brand new 500cc Kawasaki.

Also taking part in the action will be Bob Jones, the former SCCA sports car driver who switched to Grand Prix motorcycles just three years ago. Bob has competed at Laguna Seca 12 times on four wheels, but this will be his first time on the circuit with just two wheels under him. Jones will be piloting a Yamaha TDIC Grand Prix bike.

The 1971 version of Team Sozuki has also signed and will offer strong competition. With drivers Ron Grant, Art Baumann, Jody Nicholas and Ron Pierce, the Suzuki marque is the one to beat.

'Twelfth Night' Is at Colton

A Public Schools Week feature for Colton Junior High School, Monterey, is the Shakespeare comedy "Twelfth Night," which will be presented tomorrow (Friday) and Saturday nights, at 7 p.m.

Included in the package is a festival "On the Green," - an array of outdoor activities with strolling musicians, the Colton Girls' Clee Club and Jennifer Hubbert's dancing jesters all entertainers will be in coloful Elizabethan costume.

A high point will be winding of a 15-foot high Maypole and the Colton home economics classes will sell homemade tarts.

"Twelfth Nigh" will be presented on the stage in the multi-use room. Director is Neva Gribble.

Tickets may be obtained in advance at the school or at the door if seats are available.

Datsun Sales Keep Rising

For the first time in their ten year history in the United States, the Nissan Motor Corporation in U.S.A, the distributor of the Datsun line of cars and trucks, announced sales in excess of 20,000 vehicles for a one month period.

Reporting a total retail sales for the month of March of 21,685 vehicles, Nissan's volume was up 145 per cent over a similar period a year ago when the company sold 8,839 units.

Datsun passenger cars recorded 14,965 units retailed an increase of 177 per cent over March of 1970.

Retail sales of the Datsun pickup truck for March amounted to 6,720 units, up 96 per cent over the same period a year ago when 3,428 were sold.

Datsun retail sales for the first quarter of 1971 amount to 60,043 units (42,626 passenger cars and 17,417 pickup trucks). This year the to-date figure, with three months recorded, amounts to more than Nissan sold in this country during the full year in 1968.

At this time last year, Datsun had yet to retail 10,000 units in a month, a feat they went on to accomplish in April Five months after passing the 10,000 per month figure, Nissan topped the 15,000 mark in September of 1970. Now, six months later, the 20,000 retail sales per month level has been surpassed.

The local Datsun Agency is Kendall Motors, located at 2033 Del Monte Boulevard in Seaside.

L&M Grand Prix Attracts Top Drivers

As entries are received for Laguna's L&M Grand Prix, the event is building into a world battle. The top Formula 5000 drivers from all over the globe are planning to compete in this weekend's "go-for-the-dough."

Representing America's major hopes in this $35,000 contest will be Ron Grable, the 37-year old former design engineer from Cupertine.

Grable is Laguna's defending Contenental Champion, and is favored to again drink the champagne in the L&M Winner's Circle. 1970 was Ron's "hard luck year," for crashes and fuel problems kept him from taking the series crown. Awin at Edmonton linked with his Laguna victory, gave Grable fifth place in the overall standings. He began the 1971 season very strong by bringing home the first Formula 5000 car in the March 28 Questar Grand Prix at Ontario Motor Speedway.

Grable will be driving a new Lotus/Ford in defense of his Laguna Seca title.

Also qualifying for "most likely to " honors is young veteran San Posey. He has also won at Laguna, capturing the 1969 Continental victory and completing that season in third place overall.

In 1970 Posey spent most be

In 1970 Posey spent most of his driving hours braving the Trans-Am wars in a factory Dodge. Posey is equally at home is any type of speed machine though few rides would be more confortable than his mount for the L&M Grand Prix-the 1971 model Surtees TS-8/Chevy.

New to the ways of the L&M Contnental 5000 ride, Barber is more than familiar with open-wheel, single-seat racing. He is one of the most talented and honored drivers in the Sports Car Club of America. In 1970 he won both the Formula B and Formula Ford Naional Championships and also won the two of the three Continental Formula B races he entered in 1969. The STP March 701 is one of the world's most competitive Formula 1 cars. The combination of Barber and March offers West Coast fans the opportunity of seeing the best Formula 5000's on the Laguna Seca circuit.

Tax Levies Are Higher

Growth in assessed valuations and property tax levies in California's cities has substantially exceeded reductions achieved through the State's property tax relief programs, State Controller Houston I. Flournoy reported recently.

City property tax levies of $757,151,558 being collected during 1970-71 are 6.66 percent higher and are based on assessed valuations of $37,951,252,388 which are 6.7 percent higher than those for the prior year, according to the Controller's Annual Report of Financial Transactions Concerning Cities of California for Fiscal Year 1969-70.

The levies collected during 1969-70 were up only 5.04 percent and valuations increased only 2,52 percent over the prior year due to the effects of homeowner and business inventory tax exemptions enacted by the Legislature in 1968.

Tax revenues lost through these exemptions were reimbursed through State payments to the cities totaling $33,438,993 during 1969-70 and which are expected to be greater during 1970-71.

"Obviously, the reimbursed exemption approach is not the total answer to the problems of either the property taxpayers or the cities," Flournoy said.

Despite the reimbursements for exemptions, general property taxes continued to be the largest single source of cities' revenue during 1969-70, totaling $700,408,147 which was $33,796,058 higher than the prior year. However, general property taxes accounted for only 30.83 percent of the total general revenues in 1969-70 as compared to 32 percent in 1968-69. The average tax rate was $2, an increase of four cents.

The report was compiled from data submitted by the State's 404 cities, two more than last year. Their general expenditures totaled $2,258,931,458, an increase of $255,300,165 (almost 13 percent) from 1968-69.

Their general revenues totaled $2,271,915,694, an increase of $188,561,831, (slightly over 9 percent).

In addition, during the same period, city-owned enterprises received income of $802,587,388 and incured expenses of $643,913,148 plus another $137,112,873 spent for capital outlays. These enterprises included such services as water, electricity, gas,

No Traffic?

State Senator Nicholas C. Petris (D, Oakland) announced the introduction of legislation (SB 706) to eliminate downtown congestion.

The bill would require local planning bodies to define their central business districts and prohibit traffic from those areas between the hours of 7 a.m. and 7 p.m. if the city had a population of 100,000 or over.

Petris noted that the evidence overwhelmingly points to "a decision of survival: either our cities will be for people, or we will all live in the suburbs and use our cities as parking lots."

By 1990, 73 percent of the nation's population will be nation's population will be living in the cities. The automobile, which pollutes the air, dirties our buildings, takes up a large amount of space per traveler, and pushes the pedestrian into the position of fighting for his life, cannot continue to be our prime continue to be our prime source of transportation, says Petris.

The automobile determined the shape of the modern urban area, and the growth was unplanned and disastrous, according to a recent issue of Science News.

The senator noted that Federal funds are available for the development of transit in the downtown area, and there was no reason they could not be utilized by local governments in dvelopment sensible forms of moving shoppers.

"The thrust of my bill is dual: to make the downtown ecologically sane and to spur people to return to shopping in downtown areas. If the central business district were more pleasant -- if the streets were for people and not cars-- then more people would be encouraged to shop where stores are centrally located," says Petris.

Many of the city's best stores have gone out of business because parking facilities, more roads and congestion have literally paved them over.

Mayor Lindsay of New York has proposed to the New York City Council a ban on cars between the hours of 11 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The city of Sacramento has recently built people-oriented shoppers' mall.

San Francisco vetoed additional one-way streets long ago, thus discouraging more downtown traffic.

Raises Insurance

The "fragility" of the modern automobile, a combination of protruding and vulnerable sheet metal and bumpers that afford no protection even in extremely low speed crashes, accounts for costly automobile repairs and consequently high insurance premiums, according to Richard V. Patton, vice president general manager of the Inter-Insurance Bureau of the California State Automobile Association.

Most late-model automobiles sustain damages amounting to $250 - $400 even in a 5 mile-per-hour "parking lot" type collision, Patton stated.

The high cost is accounted for by both the price of replacement parts which have gone up 50 percent in the last five years and by labor which has gone up an average of 9 percent each year in the last five years.

"Over $4 billion is spent each year in the U. S. repairing cars that have been damaged in low-speed crashes", Patton said. "$350 million is spent for bumper replacement alone."

Despite all the attention which has been directed to the fragility of the modern automobile recently, the situation is not getting any better, Patton said.

The most recent crash figures show that the 1971 cars are 40 to 50 per cent more expensive to repair that the 1970 models.

"We have the technology now to produce an energy-absorbing device which would eliminate damage in crashes of 5 miles per hour and which would also lessen the damage done to the other vehicle in the crash" Patton said adding, "Such a device would also dramatically reduce the amount of damages incurred in a 10 mile-per-hour crash."

Although the automobile manufacturers are working on this problem, Patton feels they are not moving fast enough and that part of their reluctance to develop energy-absorbing devices may be due to the fact that they control the replacement parts market and this constitutes a significant portion of their sales volume.

In order to exert pressure on the manufacturers to speed development of better bumpers Patton says it will be necessary for a large state, such as California, to enact a 5 mile-per-hour bumper law.

"The Board of Directors of the California State Automobile Association believes that Senate Bill 42 which requires energy-absorbing devices to be on all cars sold in California after January, 1973, is the most important piece of proposed legislation relating to the high cost of automobile repair", Patton stated. "If this bill is enacted it will reduce auto repair costs substantially and it will enable auto insurance companies to reduce their premiums on collision coverage by as much as 20 per cent."

"We urge every motorist to support SB 42 and write to his legislative representative urging support of this important bill which will be heard in committee on April 19," Patton added.

Scholarships In Dentistry Are Offered

Recognizing the need for more dentists and knowing that the cost of a dental education has kept many students from considering dentistry as a career, the American Fund for Dental Education has undertaken a program to offer five-year dental scholarships to black men and women college students.

Scholarships awarded by the AFDE will provide a student with up to $12,500 over a five-year period. This will give the student as much as $2500 for one year of pre-dental education and for each of the four years of dental school.

Students may apply for a scholarship for the final undergraduate year of pre-dentistry, which may be either their sophomore, junior or senior year.

During the year covered by the scholarship, the student must be able to complete the minimum number of courses needed to apply for entrance to the dental school of his choice for the following year.

The basis for admission to a dental school is the successful completion of at least 60 semester hours, or equivalent quarter hours of credit, in an accredited college or university.

These minimum requirements must include at least six semester hours of credit in English, biology, physics and inorganic chemistry, and four semester hours of credit in organic chemistry. All courses in science must include class and laboratory instruction.

Scholarships are intended for use towards school expenses and living costs.

Upon application, a scholarship may be renewed for each of the four years of dental school provided the student maintains satisfactory grades.

Applicants will be considered on the basis of their academic background, financial need and character.

Although scholastic records are important, any student with an interest in dentistry is urged to apply.

Application may be made to Donald Osborne, Director of Admissions University of Dentistry, University Park, Los Angeles, CA, 90007, or to the American Fund for Dental Education, 211 East Chicago Ave., Chicago Illinois., 60611.
